

DANIEL J. MALONE
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF
DISTRIBUTION AND CUSTOMER
OPERATIONS

Daniel J. Malone is senior vice president of distribution and customer operations for Consumers Energy, the principal subsidiary of CMS Energy. He was elected to the position in May 2010.

Malone has overall responsibility for the company's electric and gas distribution systems, energy operations, customer operations, gas transmission and storage, employee development and skilling, Smart Grid program implementation and industrial safety. Energy operations is responsible for operating and maintaining the electric and natural gas delivery systems that serve the utility's customers. Customer operations is responsible for the company's revenue recovery, customer services and energy optimization programs.

Malone joined Consumers Energy in 1984 as a graduate health physicist in the radiological services department and has spent the majority of his career with the company. From 2001 to 2006, he held leadership positions with Nuclear Management Co., which operated Consumers Energy's Palisades nuclear plant in Covert, Mich.

In 2006, Malone rejoined Consumers Energy as manager of the equipment services department. Later the same year, he was named site business manager for the utility's J.H. Campbell Generating Complex in Port Sheldon Township, west of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Malone earned a bachelor's degree in environmental science from Purdue University and holds a nuclear senior reactor operator certification. In 2008, he completed the Advanced Management Program at the Harvard Business School.

DANIEL J. MALONE